Died.

On Saturday afternoon, November 12th., 1294, Mrs. Kate Woods, wife of W. M. Woods.

The above announcement brought a wave of sorrow to the entire community to say nothing of the grief around the home fire-side, while over the wires the sad message was conveyed to absent loved ones. It came in the nature of a shock, since but a day before she had visited among her neighbors, and attended to her home duties in her usual cheerful spirit.

By the friends of long ago, Mrs. Woods is remembered as Kate Hileman who was born in Pennsylvania. Of fourteen children, nine survive her, to whom she was most affectionately attached.

The loss of a mother whose children were bound to her by tenderest ties will be deeply felt. There is an aching void that can never be filled. God knew best, so he laid his hand on her and robbed her husband and children of all that made life sweet to them, but may they be drawn nearer to God in their sad bereavement for He will comfort those who put their trust in him.

Rev. Wootten conducted the last sad service at her burial with prayer and words of tribute to her that must have been consoling to the saddened hearts around her quite, peaceful form. In the Prospect cemetery she sleeps, where a flower covered grave marks the mound where rests a friend who leaves only pleasant memories behind her. While the tenderest sympathy goes out to her husband and children, we know they fully realize that they weep not without hope, for one who has crossed the silent river, to await their coming on the other shore.

Col. E. W. Taylor came over from Fort Worth, Saturday, to attend the funeral of Mrs. G. M. D. Grigsby. Col. Taylor is Supreme President of the U. B. A., of Texas, and while here he gave a talk on this Fraternal Order, Monday night, at the Court house, but owing to short notice and the inclemency of the weather, the audience was small, yet he gave a very interesting talk and it will give new life to the Lodge here and help them to increase their membership. Col. Taylor is doing good and faithful work for this great Texas order. He returned to Fort Worth Monday night.

Cosgroves Concert.

A musical entertainment given at the Elk's club last night a success. There was music in the air last night and the majority of the city lovers of symphony were on hand to enjoy it. The dealers in the fine art were the Cosgrove Concert Orchestra, who were greeted at the Elk's Club by an auditorium full of people. It would require a run on the dictionaries to describe in a fairly intelligible manner the virtues of each separate number on the program; the safest way, therefore, is to simply state that the Cosgrove aggregation proved themselves proved themselves entirely satisfactory to their audience.

The vocal numbers and violin solos by Miss Helga Larsen and Miss May Hudson Havener, respectively, were artistically rendered, each responding to double encores. The musical novelties, in which the beautiful English Arch Bells, the Marimbaphone and Sonnerphones, and the Chimes were introduced, elicited the demonstrated appreciation their presentation merits. Harry Woods, especially won applause for his accomplishments on the Xylophone, three selections being given before his delighted hearers would allow him to stop. The closing piece of the evenings entertainment, the "Imitation War Dance" as rendered by the full Orchestra, so closely bordered on reality that some of the audience, it is feared, kept an eye on the windows in anticipation of a sudden attack by the redskins. Denison, Tex. "Herald" Nov. 10.
